

FAIR HOUSING TRAINING COURSE EQUIVALENCY ACCEPTANCE CRITERIA

Only those courses and equivalencies provided by a local, state, or national REALTOR® association can satisfy the Fair Housing training requirement. Local and state associations may, however, partner with a third-party training provider to create a course that satisfies the requirement.

Partnering with a provider means a local or state association of REALTORS® has vetted a provider (i.e. real estate school, Fair Housing educators, etc.), and confirmed that their course meets NAR's mandatory minimum criteria and learning objectives before the member takes the course.

Members can take an approved course at any association of REALTORS® and it will satisfy the Fair Housing training requirement. If a member takes a course through a partnered provider of an association in their own state or a neighboring state, it will also satisfy the Fair Housing training requirement. If a course is taken from a partnered provider outside of those limits, it is up to each local association if they choose to accept it.
